Women`s strike 2019

If woman* wants, everything stands still.

On June 14, 2019, we stop all our work for the 2nd time since 1991 and instead we will go out on the street with you.

With our strike we protest against the reduction of social welfare benefits and the growing poverty of women in old age. At the same time we fight against violence and sexism. We had enough of the fact that our bodies are at other's disposal and that our work is not recognised. Instead, we want a world in which life and the concern for one another are central.

That's why we women will lay down the housework; take action at work place up to actual striking; no longer laugh politely; no longer be nice; no longer make coffee; and we will give the men he children to be taken care of.
